

EMPLOYEE EXPERIENCE TUNE UP

Let's use the intel you already have to elevate what's working and leave behind what isn't.

You know your employee experience needs attention. You feel it because you're living it too.

Maybe you want people to be happier at work. Or maybe you're chasing performance gains (spoiler: those two go hand-in-hand). Either way, you don't need another survey to confirm what you already suspect. What you need is a plan and a partner to help you map it out.

Instead of starting from scratch, Arketi Inside works with the data you already have. We connect the dots between employee insight and business outcomes to create a focused, actionable strategy that's ready to deliver results.

HOW IT WORKS

We audit these inputs, surface patterns, and connect them to the challenges you're facing. Then, we do what few others will: we talk to your employees. Not a formal interview. Not a new survey. Just candid conversations that help us understand what they really want and how they want it.

By the end, you'll walk away with a sharp executive summary and a clear, prioritized roadmap of what to start, stop, and continue.

OUR EMPLOYEE EXPERIENCE TUNE UP STARTS WITH WHAT'S ALREADY ON YOUR DESK

- Employee survey results
- Exit interviews and Glassdoor ratings
- Turnover, safety, and quality metrics
- Referral rates and onboarding feedback
- Internal comms processes
- Employee value propositions and recruiting strategies
- Quarterly objectives and KPIs

WHY IT WORKS

When you follow up on what employees have already told you - and dig deeper into their "why" - you do something powerful: prove that you are listening and acting on their input.

Armed with a deeper understanding of what matters to them, you transform your employee experience into a strategic lever, not just another box to check.

We've seen the same patterns across hundreds of companies, and we know how to cut through the noise. We help you spot what matters, skip what doesn't, and put your energy where it will make a difference.

This is more than theory. Arketi Inside offers a practical, proven methodology to turn existing insights into momentum and revive a tired EX program into your team's secret weapon.
